

Curriculum vitae

Miriam Sapiro

Washington DC, USA

* 23 August 1960

Nationality: US

President and CEO, InterAction, USA

Education

Bachelor of Arts, Williams College

Juris Doctor, NYU School of Law

Rotary Fellow, Oxford University

Professional experience

1988 – 1995: Various roles at the Department of State as Attorney-Advisor and on the Secretary of State's Policy Planning Staff.

1997 – 2000: Director for European Affairs at the National Security Council and Special Assistant to the President at the White House

2000 – 2009: Worked in the private sector, running international affairs for a technology company and starting a consulting firm, Summit Strategies International

2009 – 2014: Returned to the U.S. Government and served, upon confirmation by the Senate as Ambassador, as Deputy U.S. Trade Representative and as Acting U.S. Trade Representative.

2014 – February 2018: After government service, joined the Brookings Institution as a Non-Resident Senior Fellow before returning to the private sector and serving as Principal at Summit Strategies International, and as Partner at Finsbury and Head of its DC office

2018 – 2022: Managing Director and Vice Chairman (Public Affairs), Sard Verbinen & Co.

Since December 2022: President and CEO, InterAction, USA

Since 24 October 2017: Member of the LH Supervisory Board, elected until the Annual General Meeting 2023

Current mandates

Membership of domestic supervisory boards required by statutory law:

- None

Membership of comparable domestic or foreign controlling bodies of commercial enterprises:

- None